

DIXON JUDGE MAY BE CARTWRIGHT'S SUCCESSOR

NO ADMISSION CHARGE SUNDAY CHAUTAUQUA

R. R. A. Board Adopts New Policy for the Coming Season

The finishing touches have been given the program for the season at the Rock River Assembly, by the Board of Directors. All contracts have now been ratified by the board, and a very strong program is assured.

A new feature of the Assembly this year will be the Sunday programs, for which no entrance fee will be charged. This is a new departure along chautauqua lines but the board felt that the people of this community were sufficiently responsive and appreciative of this institution that good programs could be provided even though the admission fee was not charged.

An offering will be taken at each of the Sunday programs to defray the expense of securing the high class talent which has been booked. On Sunday afternoon, July 27th, the Dixon Symphony Orchestra will give a concert. This is a splendid organization of musicians, and is always popular with Dixon audiences. In the evening, the Methodist church will have charge of union services of all the churches. The local Methodist choir will lead in the music. The speaker for that evening will be announced later.

On the afternoon of Aug. 3rd, the Mt. Morris Band will give a sacred concert. This band has appeared repeatedly on the Assembly programs and are always welcomed by a large and enthusiastic audience. In the evening the Presbyterian church will be in charge of the service, with the Presbyterian quartette and the choir of the Lutheran church in charge of the music.

On the afternoon of Aug. 10th, Arthur Koch will give a recital. Mr. Koch is an artist who should receive a hearty reception from Dixon people. In the evening the Christian church will have charge. Perry J. Rice will be the speaker.

There is no doubt but that these Sunday programs will be well attended, as every effort has been made to make them of the finest, and the board feels that the people will be sufficiently appreciative of their efforts to give them the best so that expenses may be covered by the offerings. There has been no attempt made this year to make money on the Sunday programs.

Repairs Contemplated.
The repair work reported certain repairs contemplated on the hotel and Chautauqua Hall, which report was ratified by the board and the committee authorized to proceed along the lines contemplated. Grading and repairing of the roads, and the making of new cinder paths was also reported. Every effort is being made to put the park in first-class condition for the summer.

Three large state conferences are booked for this year, showing that Dixon is growing in popularity outside of the local territory, and that the Assembly ground are being more widely recognized as an ideal camp ground and place for summer schools.

Because of the illness of Dr. Derr of Chicago, president of the Assembly, and the contemplated absence of Vice President L. W. Walter of Dixon, who will be in Europe, Atty. E. E. Winfield was elected acting president and Rev. T. B. Hersch of Chicago was chosen platform manager.

109 Athletes Have Entered Meet Here

One of largest fields of contestants that has been assembled in this vicinity in a track meet, will be in Dixon Friday to participate in the annual Rock River Conference meet at the north side athletic field. The list of athletes entered for the different events at noon today, totaled 109 students from Mt. Morris, Polo, Morrison, Rock Falls, Sterling, Rochelle, Mendota and Dixon.

Special features will be introduced with the regular calendar of events. Harold Osborn of the I. A. C. will attempt to break the world's record for the high jump. John "Red" Lahey, local high school sprinter, will try and establish a record in the 440 yard run.

Think Couple Were Shot By Moonshiner

Harrisburg, Pa., May 20.—New leads, based on the belief that Harry Ganster, Marysville high school boy, and Leah Ellenberger, Hollidaysburg teacher, were shot by a mountain moonshiner, were followed today by state police officials investigating the killing of the two at Lambs Gap near here last night.

The chance of accidental killing was considered virtually impossible.

BOYS' SUMMER CAMP IS BEING PLANNED BY Y

Ten-Day Outing This June Under Proper Supervision.

Included in the summer program of the Y. M. C. A. is a Boys' Camp and plans have now been completed for this camp. A growing number of people are realizing the necessity of giving the boys the opportunities of living out of doors a part of the summer and the boy, too, if he be real and red blooded, longs to be camping out in the wilds of nature. From the ages of 12 to 16, the more he can be in the open, free from social engagements and from continuous labor and study, the better.

He should fish, swim, roam the woods and the waters, get plenty of vigorous action and have plenty of healthful things to think about. Conditions and circumstances are usually not favorable now; proper influences and safeguards are not always present.

To meet this need the Young Men's Christian Association is conducting an organized camp between June 10-20 to be known as Camp Yomechas. This camp is neither conducted as a charity or money-making scheme, but to develop character—"Character" is caught, not taught.

The entire cost of the camp for the whole period of 10 days will be $6.50 for members of the Y. M. C. A. and $7.50 for boys who are not members. This fee includes tents, meals, transportation and in fact every possible expense.

Dixon Association Turns Runaway Boys Back to Their Home

An interesting story shows another side light to the work of the local Y. M. C. A. Last Friday, a traveler motoring through Dixon, took three boys into the "Y" and asked that they be taken care of. The "Y" Secretary found that they had run away and two of them had left good jobs, while the third had left school, and good homes in Moline and were "beating their way" to Chicago. They had had nothing to eat since morning and were tired and hungry. These fellows were finally persuaded to return to their homes and were given supper, bed and breakfast by the "Y." The Secretary found a man motoring to Moline who kindly took the boys back to their homes with the promise that they would get back their jobs and would stick to them.

Through the Dixon Y. M. C. A. being on the job, it is more than likely that the country has been saved hundreds, yes thousands, of dollars, to say nothing of affecting the turning point of three boys' lives.

East Jordan College Students Returning

Rev. M. B. Leach of the East Jordan church, left for Indianapolis, Ind., Sunday afternoon to attend the commencement at Indiana Central College and the meeting of the trustees of the school. Miles and Gertrude Leach are students at the school and Gertrude will return with Mr. Leach Wednesday night. Ellis and Charles Schell, sons of C. W. Schell, and Edith Schell, daughter of Louis Schell are also students at this school, and will return to East Jordan for the summer vacation.

The regular weekly session of the city council will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the city hall.

DESPERADO SENT FROM WHITESIDE MADE HIS ESCAPE

Frank Edwards, Sent Up for Robbery, is Genuine Bad Man.

Frank Edwards who made his escape from the Whiteside county jail at Morrison Dec. 5, 1919, after assaulting Harry T. Berry, and who was captured at St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 20, 1921, thirty-four months after his escape and who was brought back here after a hard fight and was taken to the penitentiary at Joliet, is again at liberty. He and Harrison King of Peoria broke out of the penitentiary Friday night and no trace of them has been found. King was serving life sentence for the murder of a policeman in Peoria in 1917. The men escaped while working in the yards about the prison and had made a complete getaway when the prison was aroused.

The description of Edwards is: weight 190 pounds, height 5 ft. 8 in., brown hair, blue eyes. King was the man who escaped with him was from Peoria, one of the hangouts of Edwards.

Edwards is known to have broken out of every prison in which he has been placed with the exception of the Fort Leavenworth penitentiary. He broke out of the Peoria jail, St. Clair, Minn., the Bridewell at St. Paul and he boasted of many other escapes.

He was the ring leader of the gang who planned and made their escape from the county jail at Morrison in 1919. The charge on which he was being held here, was that of robbing the Burchell store at Erie. He was arrested in Peoria on information of the Whiteside county sheriff's office. While waiting to be brought to Morrison he told the Peoria police he would not be in the jail at Morrison long.

Assaulted Deputy Berry
The assault on Deputy Berry and the escape of the four prisoners caused considerable excitement. Deputy Berry had been left in charge of the jail and was asked by the prisoners to buy several pounds of crackers, some corn flakes and some other bulky packages of breakfast food. The prisoners knew he would not be able to put them through the opening in the cell door. When the deputy entered the cell room, Edwards struck him on the jaw and the four men jumped on him, bound and gagged him and made their getaway.

Edwards was arrested in St. Paul and gave the name of George Rice, and was landed back in the jail at Morrison Saturday, Sept. 24, 1921.

Dug Out of Workhouse
Prior to his arrest on June 18, Edwards was in the toils of the law at St. Paul for shoplifting and was sentenced to 90 days in the workhouse. After 30 days he made his escape by digging out.

Enroute from St. Paul, Edwards talked freely of how he assaulted Deputy Berry. He refused to tell where he went after he got out of the jail, but said he had been in California, New Mexico and Canada, but had made his headquarters in St. Paul most of the time.

His record shows him to be a desperate character. He served a term in the Sioux City reformatory in 1921 for robbery, a term in the St. Cloud, Minn., prison for robbery, a term in Fort Leavenworth prison in 1917, for robbing an interstate box car, and then his arrest at Peoria for the robbery of the Burchell store at Erie.

He was sentenced to Joliet penitentiary in October 1921, for a term of five to twenty years. He had served but two years and seven months of that term. He is about 40 years of age.

Leaf River Garage Robbed Last Night

Sheriff Sherd Dodson of Oregon notified local authorities this morning of the robbery of the G. Myers garage at Leaf River last night between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock. At an early hour this morning the stock of tools and accessories had been partially checked over and it was found that six Goodyear tires, a lot of 25 tires of various makes, 100 spark plugs, 24 Goodyear tubes and eight MacLaren tubes, all 30x3 1/2 size had been taken. The thieves also took a Ford touring car bearing dealer's license No. 368, which belonged to the owner of the garage and accessory shop.

YANK BIRDMEN COMPLETE LAST LAP OF PACIFIC

Continued Flight Today; Are Now in Japan Proper.

BIRDMEN.
London, May 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Captain Dooley, French aviator who landed at Shanghai today on his flight from Paris to Tokyo, damaging his machine in coming down, informed Reuters' Shanghai correspondent that he did not intend to continue his flight.

Minato, Japan, May 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—The American aviators flying around the world overcame highly adverse conditions today in completing man's conquest of the air by flying from Yokotaru Island to this little town in northern Japan. Foggy weather which at first seemed likely to prevent them from accomplishing the flight, later cleared somewhat and they took off some hours later in the day than their flights usually have commenced, driving through to their objective.

The flight, completing a passage of the Pacific by air, closed the last gap in man's navigation around the world, Americans, British and Portuguese having flown over the Atlantic, British aviators having flown from England across Southern Asia and the China coast to Japan, while British and Japanese fliers have traversed the entire stretches of their own continents.

Former Dixon Man Injured Fighting Fire in Sterling

Ernest Freadhoff, formerly of Dixon, now assistant chief of the Sterling fire department, was painfully hurt and had a narrow escape from serious injury while fighting a fire at the G. A. Charles poultry house in that city Monday evening when he fell from an extension ladder. The hooks which held the upper part of the ladder are thought to have slipped and the jar caused "Dutch" to lose his hold. In falling his chin caught on a round of the ladder, wrenching his neck muscles very painfully and causing a bad contusion, but it broke his fall considerably. The poultry house was badly damaged by the fire, over 300 chickens perishing in the flames. Loss is estimated at about $2,500 with insurance of about $2,000.

Three Policemen Held in Chicago Beer War

Chicago, May 20.—Three policemen by Associated Press Leased Wire are in jail and 81 alleged beer runners, including John Torrio, Louis Alter, and Dean O'Bannion, are free on bail as federal authorities today are making further investigations in connection with raid at the Sieben brewery yesterday when 14 trucks and 12 automobiles and a large quantity of beer were seized.

A book found after the raid, is said by authorities to contain the names of prominent business men and politicians with accounts of the business of several breweries.

PASSING BONUS BILL MAKES CUT IN TAX UNWISE?

Friends Close to Mr. Coolidge Think It His Attitude.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 20.—Veto of the revenue bill, now pending in conference was forecast at the capitol today, in view of the previous indications by administration spokesmen that enactment of the bonus bill, passed yesterday, would necessitate disapproval of the tax reduction measure by President Coolidge.

It was recalled that Secretary Mellon, in announcing his tax reduction plan, declared the proposed cut would be impossible if the bonus was allowed.

President Coolidge, in his veto message on the bonus, stressed particularly the effect of the bill on government economy, and although he made no direct statement that the bonus would prevent tax reduction, such an inference was drawn from his message.

Repassage of the bonus bill by congress over the veto, it is believed, also may have some effect on the action of the conferees. They complete today the first week of work on the bill and predictions were made that an early agreement would be forthcoming.

PUPILS IN DIXON HIGH COMMERCIAL DEPT. MAKE GOOD

Captured Freeport Meet; Second in State-wide Competition, Too.

The commercial department of the Dixon high school has just received word from Arthur Williams, who has had the typewriting and shorthand state contest in charge, that they have ranked very well both in district and in the state events. The district contest which was held in Freeport April 26, for all high schools in the northern part of the state resulted in first place for the Dixon students. There were eleven events, namely:

Junior typewriting team—Douglas Considine, James Fanning, Vincent Slothower, Nona Phillip.
Senior typewriting team—Dorothy Anderson, Opal Reed, Emeline Underwood.

Junior individual—Douglas Considine, Nona Phillip.
Senior individual—Emeline Underwood, Dorothy Anderson.

Junior shorthand team—60 word test—Hazel Greer, Edith Gramp, Emeline Underwood, Goldie Buzzard.
Senior shorthand team—80 word test—Eileen Judge, Opal Reed, Dorothy Anderson, Isabelle Lowery.

Senior individual—80 word test—Dorothy Anderson, Opal Reed.
Senior shorthand team—100 word test—Eileen Judge, Opal Reed, Dorothy Anderson, Isabelle Lowery.
Senior individual—100 word test—Dorothy Anderson, Opal Reed.
Typing—(individual—open event)—Emeline Underwood.

The standing of the three highest schools were as follows:
Dixon—21 points.
Savanna—18 points.
Freeport—17 points.

Dixon Second in State
In addition to this contest at Freeport a general state contest was held in the respective schools, each teacher sending to the director of the contest the papers to be graded, with the result that Dixon placed second in the state in this contest. This included all students in the Dixon high school who are enrolled in the typewriting department. The school winning first place was small school in the southern part of the state, Casey, Ill.

As second trophy for this, the Dixon commercial department has received a silver loving cup which will be placed among the trophies of the school. The commercial department is to be congratulated for this achievement. Many of the students who finish the work in shorthand and typewriting go out and accept positions as stenographers. The teachers of shorthand and typewriting in the high school are Miss Vera Klontz and Irene B. Miller.

GOVT. MACHINERY GETTING READY TO ADMINISTER BONUS

Considerable Preliminary Work Had Been Done By Departments.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 20.—A veteran may determine the amount of his bonus this way:

Figure up the number of days of service. For each day of home service above the first sixty days $1 will be allowed in adjusted service credit and for each day of overseas service above sixty days $1.25 will be given.

If this adjusted service credit does not amount to more than $50 it will be paid in cash. Otherwise, an insurance policy will be given. The approximate value of this policy may be determined by adding 25 percent to the amount of credit due and multiplying the total by about 2 1/2.

Thus if a veteran served 400 days at home the first 60 days he would be entitled to a policy valued at $400 plus $100 (25 percent of the amount) multiplied by 2 1/2 or $1,250.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 20.—Government machinery was in motion today to administer the soldier bonus law, finally enacted yesterday when the senate followed in the footsteps of the house and repassed the bill over President Coolidge's veto.

While the five-year fight for the bonus has been increasing in intensity during the last two years, considerable preliminary preparations have been made by the departments affected to carry out the provisions of such a bill.

Directed by Hines of the Veterans' Bureau, which will have direct control over administration of the law, declared today the bureau was ready to handle its share of the work.

The law, which applies to more than 4,000,000 world war veterans and their departments, provides for cash payments to veterans not entitled to more than $50 in adjusted service credit and paid-up 20 year endowment insurance policies to others. The insurance policies will not be issued before next January 1, while the cash payments fall due after next March 1.

President Coolidge's veto was overridden yesterday by the senate 59 to 26. His supporters lacked two votes of the one-third to sustain a veto. The house had overthrown the veto by a margin of 52 votes.

Contributing to defeat of the veto were several republican leaders, including Senator Lodge, Massachusetts, the floor leader; and Senator Curtis, Kansas, whip and assistant leader, who also sponsored the bill in the senate.

Both the army and navy departments will be required to pass on the applications of veterans for the bonus which must be filed before January 1, 1928.

Death of Measure to Kill Railroad Board Seems Very Probable

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 20.—Defeated in a ten-hour fight for a vote on the Barkley bill to abolish the railroad labor board, leaders of the democratic-republican insurgent coalition in the house were in doubt today whether they could get a decision on the measure at this session of congress.

The bill was kept from a vote last night by opposition of the organization republicans, with the aid of Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas, who repeatedly demanded roll calls to summon a quorum. When adjournment was taken it was left in a position where, under the rules, it may not be called up again until June 20.

Representative Barkley, democrat, Kentucky, author of the bill indicated he would renew his effort to get action in two weeks, but opponents said they were prepared to offer a flood of amendments to stave off a vote.

Johnson Releasing All His Delegates

Sioux Falls, S. D.—Senator Hiram Johnson has released the South Dakota delegation to the republican national convention from its obligation to vote for him for the party's presidential nomination, according to a message from Pierre, quoting John Sutherland, manager of the South Dakota campaign of Senator Johnson.

The South Dakota delegation will go to Cleveland uninstructed, Sutherland said.

Bullington, state commander of the Illinois department of the American Legion, and Past Commander Charles Schick will be guests at the banquet to be tendered members of Dixon post No. 12, American Legion Wednesday evening at 6:30 at the Elks club. Reservations have been coming in generously since Saturday and at noon today it was indicated that about 250 ex-service men would be present. Talks will be made by Past Commander "Daddy" Schick as well as officers and past commanders of the Dixon post.

FARMERS' PLIGHT TO BE CONSIDERED BY LAWMAKERS

Some Action Likely This Week; Bill Faces Battle in Congress.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 20.—The plight of the American farmer today was before the house, which probably will decide by the end of the week whether the McNary-Haugen bill should be passed as a relief measure.

The bill which would set up a government corporation to market surplus farm products abroad will under plans of leaders, reach a final vote by Saturday. These plans centered about a proposal to limit debate to fifteen hours.

Supported by a majority of the agriculture committee the measure faced a fight on the part of many republicans and democrats who consider it unworkable.

In arranging to give the bill right of way, Representative Longworth, the republican leader and members of the republican steering committee made it clear that none of them was committing himself to its support.

Govt. to Finance Corp.
The corporation provided for in the bill would have a capital stock of $200,000,000 to be subscribed by the government as needed. Proponents of the measure contend that in the end all money turned over to the corporation would be returned to the treasury.

Provision is made for the marketing abroad of wheat, flour, rice, corn, wool, cattle, sheep, swine or any food product of cattle, sheep or swine.

The bill was framed originally by department of agriculture experts. Introduced in the house by Chairman Haugen of the agricultural committee it has been materially revised by the committee. Its purpose is to give the "great export farm commodities" the same purchasing power now in terms of all commodities, that they had on the average in the pre-war years 1915 to 1914.

The bill provides for a system of ratio at which the corporation would buy farm products for sale abroad at the best prices obtainable, or in the domestic market, if deemed advisable, at not less than the ratio prices which would be determined at intervals.

JUDGE HARRY EDWARDS HELD LIKELY TIMBER

His Fine Record Pointed to Throughout Judicial District

American legion members, civil war veterans, state officials, members of the D. A. R. associations of many counties and the Masonic order will participate in the funeral services for Justice James H. Cartwright to be held at the coliseum in Oregon Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rev. Geo. H. Williams, of the Presbyterian church of Oregon, and Justice Orrin N. Carter of the supreme court will speak at the services. The body will lie in state at the coliseum from 8 a. m. until 1 p. m. tomorrow. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

The active pallbearers will be Charles R. Gilbert, S. W. Crowell, R. W. Thorpe, S. O. Garad, J. D. Mead, A. W. Hawn, H. P. Allen and R. F. Nye, all of Oregon.

Talk of Edwards
Judge Harry Edwards of Dixon is being prominently mentioned as the logical successor to the late Justice James H. Cartwright.

Richard S. Farnard of Dixon on the circuit bench in this judicial district has made such a splendid record as a jurist that his reputation has gone far beyond the boundaries of the district and he has been talked of all over northern Illinois as likely timber for the high court when a vacancy should occur. His comparative youth and vigor, coupled with his exceptional ability as a judge have recommended him for the position.

To Call Convention
The probable procedure that will be followed in selecting Judge Cartwright's successor as the republican nominee at the judicial election of June 2 is that Atty. Robert P. Ecker of Freeport, chairman of the judicial committee, will call a convention of the republican county chairmen at Rockford on Friday or Saturday of this week. At this convention the county chairmen from the various counties of the district will vote for candidates of which there will probably be at least three, and perhaps more.

Judge Oscar E. Heard of Freeport is also being spoken of as a possible candidate, although it is not probable that both Judge Edwards and Judge Heard will be candidates, as the would divide the support from western half of the district and aid one of the candidates from the bigger counties of the east of the district. Judge Heard is an able and veteran jurist and also has an enviable record on the bench.

Others are Mentioned
Judge Edward E. Shurtleff of Maingo, Judge John Newhall of Aurora, Judge Earl Reynolds of Rockford and Judge Robert K. Welch, also of Rockford, are among those in the eastern part of the district who are being mentioned as possible candidates.

The Freeport Journal Standard, commenting upon the situation, is commenting on say regarding the candidates of the Dixon Judge for the Supreme Court:

"Judge Harry Edwards, of Dixon who is presiding at today's session of the circuit court, is one of the candidates mentioned as a possible successor to Judge Cartwright for the republican nomination for Judge of the district, sixth judicial district. Judge Edwards has been a very creditable record on the circuit bench."

The republican nomination is equivalent to election in this district, since the democrats have named no candidate in opposition.

Dixon Symphony Orchestra Gave Splendid Concert
One of the most successful and enjoyable concerts ever given in Dixon was that rendered by the Dixon Symphony Orchestra at the Methodist church last evening, under the direction of Prof. Will H. Smith, who has successfully conducted some of Dixon's best musical organizations.

The church was well filled, even the galleries being occupied with an interested and delighted audience.

The playing of the orchestra was a joy to the seasoned musicians as well as to the laymen. There was a sweetness and continuity of tone, a breadth of expression and an excellence of rendition rarely heard in an orchestra outside of the larger cities. The violins were remarkable for sweetness and truthfulness of tone, as were the clarinets, cornets, flute, horns, trombones, saxophones, drums, piano, cello. In fact every instrument was handled in a masterly manner. The orchestra played the high-class selections with the ease of veterans and in their confidence and that of their director, gave their audience great pleasure.

From the opening number to the last selection the most flattering attention was accorded the musicians. After the last selection the audience begged for more and another fine number was given. The overture "Pique Dame" by Suppe, "Berceuse," "Fiddler Three," were perhaps the numbers most enjoyed, but each one was a delight in itself. Mrs. Will H. Smith and Mrs. Mabel Bowers were the excellent accompanists at the piano.

Miss Dimmick's clarinet solo was beautifully given and roundly applauded, calling for an encore.

In her reading, "Humoresque" by Fannie Hurst, Miss Mabel Smith demonstrated that she is a reader of fine ability and was warmly applauded.

The cello solo, by Miss Margaret Stevens was beautifully given, as was the violin solo by Miss Mabel Smith.

The various selections by the quartet Messrs. Raymond and Miss McMillan and Miss Mossholder were exceptionally enjoyable, their harmony being very good, the voices perfectly. Their first number, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," by Schnecker was beautifully given and "Where My Caravan Has Rested" by Lohr, was also a number greatly appreciated.

Following is the program which gave such pleasure, which was carried out to the letter:

March—"Coronation from The Prophet"—Meyerbeer
Romance—"Flower Garden Tales"—arr. Colby
Orchestra
Clarinet Solo—"2nd Air Varie"—Thornton
Miss Ruth Dimmick
Reading—"Humoresque"—Schnecker
Miss Mabel Smith
Quartet—"My Faith Looks up to Thee"—Schnecker

Orchestra

Violin Solo—"Adoration"—Borowski
Miss Mabel Smith
Selection—"Fiddlers Three"—Johnstone
March—"The Forest King"—Peters
Orchestra
Director—Will H. Smith
Accompanists—Mrs. Mabel Bowers, Mrs. W. H. Smith.

On next Monday evening, May 26th, the Dixon Symphony Orchestra will repeat this concert at St. John's Lutheran church at Sterling, and a large attendance is assured. The quartet will not appear at Sterling, but Miss McMillan, who has a very beautiful soprano voice, will be the soloist.

IT'S A BOBBER SHOP

NOW—
"Newt Whaley, Barber Shop," was what we read upon his sign. When Newt unlocked at 6 a. m. and closed at night at 9.
It used to be worth while—that shop; a feller could drop in.
An' trade the latest 'dope while Newt scraped on his chin.
But times has changed—an' Newt's changed, too; upon his wall you see a gilt edged sign of "Ladies' Hours from 10 a. m. to 3."
A body used to have a chance to rest a while in there.
An' chaw his fine cut while he talked with some one in Newt's chair.
We kept up th' baseball scores, and argued politics—
But times has changed—an' times that was 'n' times that is won't mix! Newt's gettin' pretty gay.
An' wears his Sunday suit to work, all spruced up, every day.
One mornin' he was settin' there—three, four of us, you know—
With Jerry Holcomb tellin' us about a burlesque show.
He'd seen th' week before, while he was on a little trip.
When in walked that school teacher—she's a pretty little snip.
She climbed into Newt's Whaley's chair in front of all our mob—
Says, businesslike as all get out, "I want a shingle bob!"
Newt looked at us—we looked at him—
He took an' cut her hair.
An' fore that day was over there was three more come in there.
It wasn't long till Saturday—them wimmen—I be darn!
They kept of Newt so busy that no man could get a turn.
An' Newt! Done his treachery; he swept his shop out clean.
An' had his wife put fancy shades behind th' window screen.
Well, one by one we quit Newt's place; we won't loiter there again.
Until he learns there's got to be some place reserved for men!
Why, all th' time th' wimmenfolks keeps goin' in his door—
An' now he's got the walls all cleaned, an' rugs put on th' floor.
He's turnin' easy; too! Last time I went in, wha' d he say?
But: "Will you try a Russian Clip or classic bob today?"
Saloons is gone; th' blacksmith shop's a big garage place now.
The farmers wear white collars an' buy gas to run th' plow.
The grocery ain't got no chairs where fellers can set down—
There ain't a single place a man can loaf an' talk in town.
It won't be long until some day we'll see th' worst an' stop.
To read a new sign on Newt's door—"Newt Whaley—Bobber Shop!"
Wilbur D. Nesbit.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—

Keep Sink Clean.

Always keep your sink clean because soiled pipes not only produce odors but draw vermin.

Cleaning Mops.

A dishmop should really be boiled out every day, but if this is not done, it should be kept for five minutes in a pan of boiling water.

Keep Spatula Handy.

A spatula or cake knife is good to have around to level your measurements, as recipes always call for level measurements.

Simple Canape.

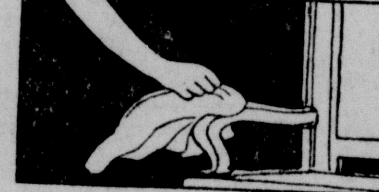

The simplest of canapes is the salt cracker spread with grated cheese, sprinkled with paprika and baked in the oven.

Improves Flavor.

A tablespoon of chili sauce or catch-up will improve the flavor of a your meat sauce to be used on a meat loaf.

Dampen Dusters.

Do your dusting with dampened or oiled dusters, so as not to spread the dust.

Varnishing Furniture.

When furniture is to be given a new coat of varnish, scrape off all the old varnish before attempting the new finish.

Lattice Work.

A lattice work, covered with vines is one way to obstruct a disagreeable view.

To Soften Citron.

Citron will chop easily again after it has dried if placed in a sieve over boiling water for a few minutes.

Baking Corn Bread.

Dredge the pan in which you are going to bake corn bread in with meal before you pour in the batter. This will not only keep it from sticking to the pan, but will give it a rich, brown crust on the under side.

Whipped Cream.

Whipped Cream will stay whipped longer and will have a distinctive flavor if sweetened with honey instead of sugar.

String for Beads.

A good quality of fishline makes a good string on which to string your beads and it will stand severe strain without breaking.

Has Wonderful Success with Lilies

Mrs. W. H. Smith of North Ottawa avenue has wonderful success in raising Madonna lilies, and each year the lily bed at the Smith home is a joy to the neighborhood. From the prolific yield of the flowers Mrs. Smith makes lovely gifts to her friends. Nothing could be more beautiful than this bed of lilies of a bright summer morning, their pure whiteness gleaming in the sun, dew sparkled. Mrs. Smith was persuaded by friends to send a picture of the garden to the New York Magazine and they wrote back and said she seemed to have such success propagating the lilies they would like to know how she did it. Mrs. Smith wrote the Garden Magazine, (the same magazine which recently gave views of E. N. Howell's grounds and garden), and told them her mode of procedure. Much to Mrs. Smith's surprise, they sent her a check and said they would print her article in the August Garden Magazine.

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY.

(Unless otherwise specified, these recipes are planned for four persons.)

TO ROAST BEEF.

As soon as your meat comes from the market remove it from the paper and put it on ice. Wipe with a cheesecloth, kept for the purpose, wrung out of cold water. Never let meat soak in water, cold or otherwise, as the water draws out the juices and much nourishment is lost. A roast should always be put into a hot oven to quickly cook the surface and prevent the escape of juices. At the end of 15 minutes the meat should be seared all over. Then reduce the heat and allow 15 minutes for each pound if wanted "rare" and 20 to 25 if wanted "well done."

A roast of beef can be cooked deliciously in a common, ordinary "spider." It will require basting every 10 minutes and should not be dredged with flour before putting in the oven. Mix one teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper for each pound of meat. Rub well into meat before putting in the pan. Have the oven very hot. Put just enough boiling water into pan to cover bottom of frying pan, add roast rubbed with salt and pepper and roast for 15 minutes. Then baste with drippings in the pan every 10 minutes. If the roast is very lean, put a very thin slice of fat pork over the top.

To make the gravy remove the roast from the pan and cook on top of the stove until the drippings stop spitting and sputtering. Pour off all the fat but two or three tablespoons. Add two or three tablespoons of flour and stir until perfectly blended and brown. Then slowly add two or three cups of hot water, stirring constantly, and let bubble for three minutes after all the water is in. Bring your gravy to the boiling point each time you add water. Season with salt and pepper and serve in a gravy boat. This makes a thin gravy.

If you prefer to use a self-basting

Will "Permit" Jap Ambassador to Quit

Tokio, May 20.—(By the Associated Press.) Ambassador Hanihara may be "permitted to resign" his Washington posts shortly, Premier Matsui told the newspaper men today.

The premier's statement was made to a gathering of representatives of the Japanese press after today's cabinet meeting at which he admitted the subject has been discussed. The statement was the result of insistent inquiries.

"WHO MADE COOLIDGE?"

F. W. Buxton of the Boston Herald wrote the editorial which won the Pulitzer prize of $500 as the best editorial of the year. It follows:

"Who made Coolidge?"

"Margaret Foley, of course. When Levi H. Greenwood was president of the Massachusetts Senate he opposed woman suffrage. She opposed his re-election in his district and prevailed. Senator Coolidge became President Coolidge on Beacon Hill, and the signals were set clear for the road to the Governorship.

"Who made Coolidge?"

"Edwin U. Curtis, of course. When he was a sick man in that old brick building at the dead end of Pemberton Square the heedless policemen went out on strike to the refrain of 'Hail, hail, the gang's all here.' The sick man showed the strength of the stalwart, until finally Governor Coolidge sent a telegram to Samuel Gompers that tapped its way into national prominence, and is today a sort of Magna Charta of the people's rights.

"Who made Calvin Coolidge?"

"James Lucey, the Northampton cobbler, of course. No explanation or argument is necessary here, but merely a reminder. 'The Herald' published a fac-simile a few days ago of President Coolidge's letter to him which said: 'If it were not for you, I should not be here.'

"Who made Calvin Coolidge?"

"Frank W. Stearns, of course. With as close an approximation to second sight as we may expect in these days and with an ability to see around the corner years before Einstein told us how rays of light are bent, this substantial, self-made, self-respecting Boston merchant, with his quiet sense of obligation to the community, discerned qualities which hardly anybody else glimpsed. To go to the Republican convention he left a Governor, only to come back to pay his respects to a potential Vice-President.

"Who made Calvin Coolidge?"

"Senator Crane, of course. He made Coolidge by showing him, in precept and practice, the way of wisdom and by vouching for him in high places where his chance say-so was as good as his oath and bond. To the younger man he gave that mixture of personal attachment and respect of which he was none too prodigal, but always of mighty advantage to the few who won it.

"Who made Calvin Coolidge?"

"The Republican party of Massachusetts, of course, a canny organization with some Bourbonism, some democracy, some vision, some solid traditions, and no end of genuine appreciation of the merits of a trustworthy man. It always lined up behind him solidly, even when he displayed that reticence which to the unknowing was some evidence of ingratitude, and to the knowing was merely Coolidgeism.

"Who made Calvin Coolidge?"

"The people of Massachusetts, of course. They took him at more modest valuation, whether he wanted to be a town officer or a Governor. They had that which thousands call a blind faith in him. More thousands called it a passionate intuition.

"Who made Calvin Coolidge?"

"His mother, of course, who endowed him with her own attributes; a father that taught him prudential ways with all the quiet vigor of the old Greeks who preached moderation in everything; his school and his college; his classmate, Dwight Morrow, and his guest of a day or two ago at the White House, William F. Whiting.

"Who made Calvin Coolidge?"

"Calvin Coolidge, of course. From the reflective shoemaker and the furious Miss Foley to the complacent Frank W. Stearns and the watchful and discerning Senator from Dalton, came some of the makings, but the man himself had the essentials of greatness. Give another man those same foes and friends and he might still be as far away from the White House as most sons of Vermont."

HOW GENUINE BUTLERS BUTLE.

There is much to be said for the latest effort of the motion picture magnates to bring realism to the screen. People have always suspected that some of our pictures of so-called fashionable life were not all they should be; but now that a full-license butler with years of experience in the best English mansion has been hired to supervise the training of motion picture butlers, there is no longer any need for suspicion.

This new moving picture butler-trainer, for instance, has already divulged some secrets which ought to make it easy for us to tell whether this or that screen butler is correct in every detail. Butlers, we are told, should never wear side-whiskers, better known as "mutton chops"; they should never wink at parlor maids; they should never appear in full dress at 9 in the morning. And, above all, we should never represent a butler with a feather duster in his hand. Butlers never do the dusting.

Then there is the matter of who opens the door to guests. From our ordinary, unsupervised moving pictures we have learned that butlers sometimes do this. But now that Charles Green, butler de luxe among the nobility, is going to train them, our moving picture butlers henceforth will refrain from doing anything so menial as opening a door to guests. That little job will be done from now on only by footmen, unless otherwise engaged.

It is always gratifying to be able to tell the same article from the real thing—even in the case of moving picture butlers. But, above all, let us have truth, even on the screen.

PROSPERITY.

Railroads are expecting very heavy freight traffic in the fall, and are getting their equipment in shape to handle it. So reports the Wall Street Journal after a survey of the leading roads.

Railroad optimism, curiously enough, is most pronounced in the east—chronic home of pessimism during presidential campaign years.

Heavy autumn traffic would mean big buying by the public, with mills and factories running at capacity—in short, general prosperity.

SPENDERS.

American people spent more money in April than in April of any former year except 1920.

During the month, 36,415 million dollars worth of bank checks were written and passed through the clearing houses.

This was two and a half times more than in the boom years before the war. Since prices have about doubled, on the average, people are spending a fourth more than in 1913, measuring their purchasing in terms of 1913 buying power of the dollar.

MORE HOMES.

In April about 5550 million dollars worth of new building construction was contracted for, the country over.

This was a fifth more than in April, 1923. Even a pessimist will have to put on several pairs of blue spectacles to find fault with that.

People don't build on a big scale unless they're betting on good times ahead. A few business men, may be nervous, but the public isn't. And the psychology of the public is what counts. It generates prosperity or hard times. As long as the public spends freely, there is nothing in the business situation to worry about.

WORLD'S FAIR.

England is having a World's Fair this year, costing 600 million dollars. They call it the British Empire Exhibition, but products of other countries are represented. Steamship companies estimate that 1 out of every 400 Americans will attend. How many are going to the Exhibition, how many to drink Scotch?

The former British Exhibition of 1851 featured Yankee devices such as chewing tobacco, parlor stoves, bathtubs and cornhusk mattresses. Quite a contrast, visitors will ponder, as they view airplanes, radio, etc., at the 1924 fair in London.

Too many who catch on to things quickly let go the same way.

The Prince of Wales should trade his present steed for a hobby horse.

Adam's rib was made of bone, but it isn't wise to say so to your wife.

"Why, Mister Bags, the cracker barrel is empty!"

Mister Bags' store in the woods was a great place for all the neighborhood folk to meet and gossip.

One day Old Daddy Cracknuts came in and asked the price of a new kind of smoking tobacco, and Mister Bunny came in to use the telephone, and old Ringtail Coon was passing and looked in to wish Mister Bags the time of day.

And so it went until there was quite a party. "It looks like rain," said Mister Bunny wisely, when he had finished talking on the telephone and said, "Much obliged" to Mister Bags, the fairman storekeeper.

Everybody considered this a moment. "What do you think, Mister Groundhog?" asked Ringtail Coon. "You're our oldest inhabitant." And of course, being the oldest inhabitant, he was expected to know everything. It was suspected that Mosey Mud Turtle senior, was the very oldest inhabitant, but as Mosey wasn't sure and no one else could remember, it couldn't be proved on him.

Besides Ringtail rather liked the honor. Ringtail absent-mindedly took a cracker out of the cracker barrel before he answered. "Well," said he, "I don't know. It might be going to rain and then again it might not. But I would say that if it hadn't started by midnight, it won't rain today."

And having delivered himself of this wise speech, he took another cracker out of the cracker barrel and started to munch at it reflectively.

THE QUEST FOR THE NIGHT FLOWER

PRISON TALES

BY KAIN O'DARE

The "Night Flower" is the name I gave to a girl I met in Wichita, Kan. She was a girl with a mistake and I was a man with more than she.

At the time of our meeting I was an escapee from the federal authorities in Texas, where I had been imprisoned for the theft of $20,000 in United States money-orders.

The girl was just a little waif drifting along in life and happened to drift into me.

The night of our meeting the girl told me her story and I told her mine. That kind of spanned the stranger space between us and we became as kindred.

Somehow or other, I treated the girl decent, and she responded like any crushed thing does that is handled tenderly.

Afterwards we met in Kansas City. It was a beautiful spring day, and the Night Flower wanted to take a ride into the country.

We took the car at the corner of Tenth and Main, that runs over to Leavenworth where the fort is and where is located the federal penitentiary.

"I want to see how it feels," I told the little girl by my side, "to be on the outside of the walls looking in, instead of being on the inside looking out."

"The little waif looked up into my eyes and gave me one of her little sad smiles. She never said much. She had seen much, however, and that was the reason."

In Leavenworth we strolled up Metropolitan avenue, and with my desire to "look in" satisfied, we returned.

"This is where the chaplain of the prison lives," I told the Night Flower. "He's done many a fine trick for me. Let's go in and call on his wife and the kids."

The chaplain's wife was glad to see me, and I thought it was nice of her to kiss the Night Flower, like she would one of her own daughters.

While we were conversing the chaplain came in from his office in the prison up the street.

We got to talking about this thing and that, and before long the chaplain knew how I had met the Night Flower and what we thought of each other.

"It's a good time to get married," he said. "Both of you start together, this very day, on to a new road. Folks, you'll find out that life is sweet."

I watched the Night Flower's lips tremble, and then I saw the chaplain's wife's arms go about her shoulders.

I knew it was time to leave the two women alone. I motioned the chaplain out of the room.

"We'd do it in a minute," I told him "but the federal authorities in Texas want me bad."

"Does the girl know it?" he asked. "Everything," I replied.

I think it was about an hour afterwards, along towards sunset, when the KAIN O'DARE AND THE EVER PRESENT FACE OF THE NIGHT FLOWER, AS O'DARE DESCRIBED HER TO THE ARTIST.

Night flower arose from her knees in the chaplain's study and went to the window and looked across the prairies into the golden west.

I went to her side and took hold of her hand.

She turned to me with tears streaming down her face.

"I shall always stay clean," she said.

That night she returned to Kansas City.

The best thing that I could do for her was to send her a beautiful bouquet of white roses.

Later, just before I took my train to Chicago so as to put more distance who had promised to be my wife. But to no avail.

After I was released I searched every principal city in the country for her.

In Portland's Third street, once, I thought I saw the flash of her golden hair in the mobs below my window. When I gained the street, whatever I saw had vanished.

I have searched up and down San Francisco's Chinatown, Denver's Curtis street, back again to the corner of Tenth and Main in Kansas City, every nook and cranny of Chicago, and all of the places in New York where folks are apt to find hidden stories and broken lives. But to no avail.

Some day I shall find my Night Flower. Maybe here. Maybe there—over there where I'm always hearing her far cry.

BACKYARD PLAYGROUND BUILD SAND BOX FOR CHILDREN

This is the first of a series of 10 articles on the construction and use of playground equipment adapted to the backyard.

BY W. C. BATCHELOR

The sand pile is without doubt the most popular play facility of childhood. Every boy and girl enjoys the unparalleled opportunity for play of the imagination in the building of caves, houses, lakes, rivers, highways, railroads, farms, villages, and the like, in sand.

Not only does the attraction of the sand box keep the child in his own yard, but at the same time engages him in a highly educational activity.

The cost of a sand box is so slight that no child need be denied this precious opportunity. The accompanying sketch indicates a practical method of construction. The size, 4x6 feet, is large enough for two or even more children.

Material needed:

Two pieces, 2 inches by 12 inches by 8 feet.

Two pieces, 2 inches by 12 inches by 4 feet.

Two pieces, 2 inches by 10 inches by 4 feet.

One pound No. 16 common nails.

(Approximate cost, $3.10.)

One load (1 yard) clean sand.

(Approximate cost, $3.00.)

The shelf provides a seat as well as a "counter" on which to turn out the molds and from which to "sell" cakes, pies, etc.

A dozen blocks the size of blocks (8 inches long) cut from a 2x4 inch board are a valuable addition, being useful for walls and roofs of buildings, fences, bridges, etc. Small garden tools, or a large spoon, should be a part of the equipment. Dampen the sand occasionally and keep bottles or other articles of glass out of the box.

In choosing the location for the sand box seek for any natural shade. Too, a canvas canopy can be built over the box at a small additional cost.

WESTERNERS HAVE WON MORE GAMES THAN EASTERNERS

Clubs in West in Each League Have Margin Over Rivals.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Western clubs in each league have won more games than their eastern rivals in the present inter-sectional series.

In the National, playing on their home grounds the western representatives have won 17 and lost 12 games.

In the American the west has won 14 and lost 13. The Athletics won only two of their eight struggles but other eastern teams have out-played the invaders except the St. Louis Browns who have won four of their five games.

On a rainy field at Pittsburgh yesterday the champion Giants slid out of first place by losing to the Pirates six to three while Cincinnati was prevented from meeting Brooklyn by rain.

John Watson's wildness decorated almost every Pirate run. Frisch and Terry erred amidst four hits and a walk in the sixth inning and the Pirates scored four runs. Morrison pitched a good game.

In the American league Boston defeated Detroit 9 to 1 and pulled to within one contest of the leading Yanks. Wildness by three Tiger pitchers in the second inning was mixed with six hits for six Red Sox runs.

In the other game of Athletics won their second contest in 17 starts by beating the White Sox 4 to 3. Hornet twirled fine ball after an absence of several days from the line up.

Collins Leading Sox. Eddie Collins was appointed acting manager of the White Sox during the absence of Johnny Evers who is recovering from an operation.

"Red" Wingo, Georgia collegian, brother of Ivy, veteran Cincinnati catcher, broke into the Tigers line-up but failed to hit. Early in the season Cobb had high hopes for him as a slugger needed to bolster the attack. With Fothergill, former Three Eye Leaguer in reserve, Cobb will not be disappointed it is believed, as both utility men will show better with more opportunities to play. Georgia fans believe Wingo may eventually replace Cobb.

A total of 159 home runs have been scored to date in both major leagues, 88 in the National and 71 in the American.

Bib Falk, Sox outfielder, crashed a double and a triple out of 3 chances at bat.

Lloyd Toomey, Fresno, California, right hand pitcher, will report to the White Sox within a few days. He won 19 out of 20 games in the Fresno twilight league two years ago.

President Heydler of the National league was in Chicago yesterday but failed to state his business.

Urban Shocker, St. Louis Browns pitcher, was called from Washington yesterday to Cleveland on account of the death of his mother.

Charley Hollocher, Cub shortstop, is satisfied there is nothing wrong with his stomach, x-ray plates having been shown him yesterday which failed to reveal any indication of an ailment.

Entries for the grade school track and field meet, which will be held at the high school athletic field Saturday morning, under the auspices of the physical department of the Y. M. C. The live schools always have a large field of entries and a good crowd of rooters to witness the events. Fitzsimmons is Out of Carp-Gib Battle

By Associated Press Leased Wire.

Chicago, May 20.—Floyd Fitzsimmons, credited with the original promoter of the Carpenter-Gibbons bout at Michigan City, May 31, has been officially declared out of it by Frank Parker, financier of the enterprise, according to today's Chicago Herald and Examiner. Parker, with Joe Coffey, wrestling promoter, have formed a corporation to finance and stage the contest at the time and place named, the newspaper says. Work of enlarging the arena to accommodate 10,000 more spectators than originally planned is under way.

Carpenter yesterday confined his activities to short sessions of bag punching, rope skipping and punching the sand bag with two rounds of boxing, while Gibbons increased his session to eight rounds of boxing in addition to rope skipping, bag punching and baseball.

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY CARTON, CONTINUED

I confess, Syd, I was a little afraid that Sally Atherton would shock mother with some of her unconventional speeches, but much to my surprise she immediately made herself very interesting. She asked mother all sorts of things about the family tree which, of course, was the most flattering thing she could have done. Also she waxed eloquent over all that old furniture that Leslie had put into the house, particularly that old desk that mother gave to Leslie as a wedding present. Mother told her that she was satisfied that desk contained a secret drawer, but that she never had been able to find it and that Leslie had not seemed to, either. "It wouldn't be secret very long if Leslie found it," I interrupted. "She never keeps anything from me, you know." "Oh, I wouldn't be too sure of that," remarked Mrs. Atherton. "There isn't a person in the world that hasn't a secret drawer somewhere—some place where he or she hides away things that they would tell to no one, no matter how much that one was loved. It may only be a secret place in her heart." "I am glad to find you acknowledge such a thing as a heart," I could not resist remarking for her ear alone. To my surprise mother nodded her head in confirmation of Mrs. Atherton's surprising assertion and said: "I know this is true, for as much as I loved your father, John, as long and as intimate as was our married life, there were some thoughts in my brain, some desires in my heart, that I could never tell him." I know, Syd, that my face expressed my surprise—to think that my mother, conventional and puritanical as she is, should still find that there are things that she must not tell her husband. It set me to wondering. I've always been so sure that Leslie keeps nothing from me. I've always been so certain that keeping one's secrets was purely a masculine prerogative, that the idea was disturbing. I must have shown this in my face, for Mrs. Atherton spoke in answer to my expression, for I had said nothing. "One of the most interesting phases of life to me is the fact of masculine egotism. Every man thinks that he is not only the real custodian of his wife's soul, but the repository of her innermost thoughts. There's one part of the marriage service that he takes seriously, and that is that marriage has made him and his wife one. He emphatically, however, believes he is the one. If he gets the slightest suspicion that his wife has a different opinion, marriage then and there is not a success in his estimation." Lord, Syd, that woman is a constant flip to my intelligence. She invariably piques my imagination. No wonder a man of Sam Atherton's caliber soon discovered that he was not the "one." I don't know a man that could tame her. Come up soon and see if you think it would be worth your while. JACK. (Copyright 1924, NEA Service, Inc.) Tomorrow: Letter from Leslie Prescott to Ruth Ellington.

TEN CENTS PER LINE FOR CARD OF THANKS. Evidently there are some who do not understand that Card of Thanks run in a newspaper is purely a personal matter and not news, and consequently something for which a charge is made in all papers. Seventy-five cents is the minimum price in the Telegraph, so if those wishing a card run would send the money with copy it would save all further annoyance.

This settles the question of an oil burner in your home

Sooner or later, someone was bound to perfect an oil burner.

When you see the Oil-O-Matic, you will realize that it was done five years ago.

Inventions of such great importance are not perfected in a week, a month, or a year. They must develop. But your basement should not be used as a laboratory.

What is now being learned in your neighbors home, Williams learned five years ago in their factory. It cost them $250,000. The fact that no Oil-O-Matic has ever failed is evidence that no one was asked to pay for their experiments

All that you ask now is an oil burner that is past the experimental stage—a finished product. One as free from care as a sewing machine. With no more upkeep than a phonograph. One that will burn any kind of fuel oil—especially the cheaper oils. One that keeps the inside of the furnace clean, and the upstairs comfortably warm regardless of the weather. One that runs only about 30% of the time, even in zero weather. In other words, a wholly automatic, reliable, clean source of heat.

That one now awaits your inspection—fully approved by the underwriter's Laboratories. You can pay for it as you use it under our new deferred payment plan. We have an Oil-O-Matic on display in our shop. One look at it and you will never order another ton of coal.
